

Acknowledgements

The Hawai‘i School Garden Curriculum Map was created by a team of garden and class teachers who were graduates of The Kohala Center’s Kū ‘Āina Pā School Garden Teacher Training Program. All teachers were from public or charter schools in Hawai‘i. Work was conducted over one year as a whole group and in teams of K–2, 3–5, and 6–8 educators. We would like to express our deep appreciation to all the teachers who gave of their time and knowledge and participated in this project. Our purpose is to further the connections between the classroom and the outdoor classroom of the natural world in the areas of food and health, environment, sustainability, and culture.

Team Leaders: Hawai‘i School Garden Curriculum Map

Nancy Redfeather – The Kohala Center

Dr. Koh Ming Wei – Pacific Resources for Education & Learning (PREL)

Amanda Rieux – Māla‘ai: The Culinary Garden of Waimea Middle School

K–2 TEAM:

Nancy Redfeather – The Kohala Center

Ting Ortiz – Kaūmana Elementary

Jessica Sobocinski – Garden Teacher, Hawai‘i Preparatory Academy, Lower School

Joanna Schiller – Innovations PCS

Melissa Chivers – Hōnaunau Elementary

3–5 Team:

Dr. Koh Ming Wei – Pacific Resources for Education & Learning (PREL)

Debbie Millikan – ‘Iolani School

Krista Donaldson – Innovations PCS

Kamuela Naihe – Hōlualoa Elementary

6–8 Team:

Amanda Rieux – Māla‘ai: The Culinary Garden of Waimea Middle School

Megan Learned – Innovations PCS

Wendy Baker – Hawai‘i Academy of Arts and Science

Holly Sargeant-Green – Māla‘ai: The Culinary Garden of Waimea Middle School

Consultants and Editing:

Dr. Jan Ray – School of Education, University of Hawai‘i at Hilo

Linda Colwell – Consultant and Editor, School Garden Education, Agriculture, and Food Literacy

Program Assistance:

Donna Mitts – The Kohala Center

Andrea Snow – FoodCorps Hawai‘i, The Kohala Center

Mahalo to the WHH Foundation, the Bill Healy Foundation, the USDA Farm to School Program, the Ulupono Initiative, the Hau‘oli Mau Loa Foundation, and The Kohala Center for their encouragement, support, and for believing that this work was important and needed.